VOLUME VII
BISHOP FENWICK LANCE

To the reader :

Congratulations! You have in your possession the most unusual yearbook ever written in the history of Fenwick. Like each individual it's just a "little bit different". We have tried to capture the various and varying moods of this school and the people in it. Hopefully, you can find yourself somewhere in this volume.

The book is dedicated to you, as you were in 1973-1974. We will all grow and change but it is good to be able to look back and laugh on our "high school traumas", through the Lance.

Lovingly,

all of us...

Friendship is sharing a laugh, a cry, a worry ... even an inside joke. To have a friend is everything .. companionship. It's having security in knowing someone's there to listen, to know all, to share the good times and the bad. It's discussing latest love affairs or old flames. It's having someone nearby with a common hate for chemistry or a buddy for a good buzz on a Friday night at Nahant. It's having a tired smile to greet you on a Monday morning or a ride to skip out on a Friday afternoon. Friendship is parties, exams, bumming cigarettes, good memories, good-byes and filing into an auditorium in June.

the big kids

We are here after our long climb ~
 bumbling through freshmen confusion,
 bopping through sophomore coolness, bellyaching through junior superiority and
 breezing through our senior identity trips.

Supposedly, we are the leading body; the ones the underclassmen look up to, admire,

imitate, and generally adore. Seniors are united through spirit and mutual pressures, anxieties, responsibilities,
 and sense of helplessness.

Unfortunately (or fortunately, it depends on how you look at it) next year we'll again be rookies. But our time this year, though brief, was real...

Senior year means your last fling to get to know everyone, do what you have not done before but always wanted to do. Senior year should be the year you always want to remember as being great, but not something you will regret.

Senior year is a search for something relevant; only to find it is yourself.

The seniors are nice. They don't act like they own the school ~ like a lot of senior classes do. Seniors are the ones who have more responsibilities, more problems, more anxieties, more joys, more woes, and more fun than all the other classes. In general, this senior class is alright, but a little rowdy ... like all seniors are sometimes. The seniors are A-OK!

"I remember all those thousands of hours that I spent in grade school watching the clock, waiting for recess or lunch or to go home. Waiting, for anything but school. My teachers could easily have ridden with Jesse James for all the time they stole from me."

teachers
and other important people

When looking back through high school memories, one group, the faculty, stand out for some reason or other. It has been said that the faculty make or break the system. I don't know about that, but certainly they contribute something more than a grade on the old report card. A good teacher is one who is hated or loved and admired. When they have no effect, they are worthless and should be beheaded.

Luckily, Fenwick's faculty has not been treated in this manner due to their interest and honest approach to the student body who say they are ...

CUSTODIANS

the little kids

Underclassmen find themselves in the formative years of school; past eighth grade nonsense but not quite up to senior standards. They are in the experimental stage, learning how to adjust to each other, their parents and mostly their own personalities.

Foolish freshmen, spirited sophomores, jolly juniors; easy generalizations to make. But they're all growing into unique, interesting and different human beings.

Given the correct amounts of opportunity, academic and social activities, freedom and luck they'll make it. Until then we all love them as they are . . . . →

CLUBS

Allright all you enthusiastic, involved, spirited kids ~ get organized! Fenwick as you may have noticed is a school of clubs, groups, + committees. If there's something you don't like you can join a club and change it. If there's something that needs to be added onto the curriculum, you can join a committee and change the schedule. If something is just plain bugging you, you can go to one of the councils' open meetings and express your sentiments. And, if you cannot relate to any of the existing clubs, there is always the opportunity of establishing a new one to suit your own peculiar needs and/or wants!

DRAMA CLUB presents "TEN LITTLE INDIANS"

"... a cluster of statuettes on the mantelpiece of a country house ... eight assorted guests arriving for a weekend ... not knowing each other or their host ... the housekeeper, butler, and boatman have never met their employer ... a phantas-magoria of gruesome happening ...
clues, suspicions, and terror ..."

Mark Malloy (Justice Wargrave) conducts the inquiry to discover the murderer.

Dan DeAngelis (Dr. Armstrong) pours himself another drink to quiet his nerves
as the tension increases.

Pat Carson as the prim and proper Miss Brent interrupts her knitting to correct Doug Borowski (Mr. Blore) for his "improper conduct."

Kevin Gendreau (Rodgers) and Terri Slack (Vera) listen to accusations and explanations as the group tries to find the murderer.

Chuck Labreque (Capt. Lombard) is startled by the disappearance of another china Indian.

Suspicions make everyone the killer as Chuck LaBrequé (Lombard), Mark Malloy (Wargrave), and Terri Slack (Vera) wonder who will be next.

The surprise ending—Mary Malloy (Wargrave) returns to exact justice from Terri Slack (Vera).

In the end justice does prevail and Mark Malloy (Wargrave) is shot by Chuck LaBrequé (Lombard). Terri Slack (Vera) is saved and the mystery is solved.

Still smiling amid all the activities, Ms. Sullivan directs the final act.

BEHIND THE SCENES ACTIVITIES

Elaine Emerson and Shannon Ryan discuss how to go about building the fireplace for the living room set.

There is always the welcome break from set crew activities.

Hammers, nails, paint, brushes, building, rebuilding and all kinds of jobs are the usual for Nancy Pariseau, Mary Lou Whalen, Kathy Daly, and Elaine Emerson.

Assistant Directors Marilyn Shuko and Brenda Sullivan discuss the "endless details" with Ms. Sullivan.

the *THRILL* of victory

the "AGONY" of defeat

Genewick teams have experienced both of these emotions and all the ones in between from dejection to elation. Being a member of a team poses certain responsibilities to the individual. He or she must physically and psychologically prepare themselves for every game; and then must face sweaty locker rooms and total fatigue after each performance.

Alas, we don't have all the champion athletes in the world but certainly we have the best "sports kids" around!
